Introduction

Message from Jean ZOUNGRANA President of French Canoe Federation

France and more particularly the city of Vaires-sur-Marne are glad to welcome the 2023 ICF Canoe Sprint & Paracanoe World Cup at the Olympic and Paralympic stadium of Île de France.

The French Federation of Canoe Kayak and Paddle Sports is delighted to host for the first time an international Sprint & Paracanoe competition on the Olympic venue. This competition will serve as a test for the organization of the Olympic Games in 2024.

In agreement with ICF, the technical deliverables for this competition have been lightened. However, the organizing committee will do its best to welcome you in the best conditions.

The Vaires-sur-Marne Organizing Committee will put its skills and know-how available for the organization of this competition. The organizing committee, as enthusiastic and passionate, will be there to make sure you have a great experience, as an athlete, member of a delegation, volunteer or spectator.

The organizing committee composed of the FFCK and local community have long experience of working in harmony and promises to deliver an unforgettable event.

I want to thank all those involved for the trust given to the organisation committee.

I will be looking forward to welcoming you all between 29th of August and 1st of September and to support athletes and celebrate the athletes on their road to the podium.

Message from Thomas KONIETZKO President of International Canoe Federation

The opportunity to have an International Canoe Federation canoe sprint and paracanoe world cup on the same venue where athletes will compete for Olympic and Paralympic gold next year is exciting for our sport.

After the disappointment and the uncertainty of the Tokyo Olympics, our canoeing community is itching to get back to life as normal in the lead-up to a Games. Holding a world cup and a test event at our exciting new Paris 2024 venue will set pulses racing.

We have been very fortunate in our canoe sprint and paracanoe history to have course designs which have provided great legacy for the local community, and opportunities for the wider canoeing family. Nearly all of our Olympic and Paralympic canoe sprint venues are still being used today, by both professional and recreational paddlers.

We can be sure already that the sprint venue at Vaires-sur-Marne Nautical Stadium will be a wonderful advertisement for our sport for many years to come.

Of course once our athletes arrive in Paris for this year's world cup nearly all of the quotas for next year's Games will have been allocated. The race will be on for the athletes to then earn selection to represent their National Federation at the Olympics.

It's going to set the scene for a gripping competition. And we have complete confidence our friends at the FFCK will put on a top show, working hand-in-hand with the Paris 2024 team and the ICF to host an event which will showcase all the thrilling aspects of canoe sprint and paracanoe.

On behalf of the ICF I wish all the teams and all the athletes the very best for this exciting event. Dreams will come true, others may be disappointed, but the important message is we provide a positive and exciting snapshot of how fantastic our sport is.

I wish all event organisers, volunteers, and the Paris community every success for this world cup and Olympic test event. We are very fortunate to have such a passionate and committed organising committee putting this competition together, and it fills me with confidence that this will truly be an event to remember.

By Plane
Several airports
1 international

Paris-Charles-de-Gaulle International Airport, located in Roissy-en-France, is the leading French airport, the 2nd European hub and 10th worldwide in terms of passengers.

More than a hundred airlines operate from Paris-Charles-de-Gaulle airport, serving around 330 destinations in nearly 120 countries.

The airport attracts international customers to the Seine-et-Marne department.

By train
Direct access to the cities

The department has 2 TGV stations at Roissy and Cheshy. They provide direct access to train lines, RER and even to Roissy airport. These stations serve French and European destinations.

The Seine-et-Marne railway network has a total of more than 80 stations throughout the region, which are served by 4 RER lines (A, B, D, E) as well as 3 transiliens lines (K, P, R) with direct links to Paris.

By Car
A network developed for all users

The road network in Seine-et-Marne reflects the good accessibility of the region and is the primary means of travel for users.

The main routes (215 km of motorways and 196 km of national roads), mainly directed towards Paris, are complemented by a fairly dense network that favours local services. Numerous inter-city bus lines provide public transport services in the area, particularly the 14 Seine-et-Marne Express lines.

Venue Course

The 80-hectare Vaires-sur-Marne lake was built in the late 1980s on the foundations of former quarries to host the 1991 World Sprint Championships.

Today it will be used as a venue for the 2024 Olympic Games and is also a magnificent green space where the local population can come to walk and enjoy the related sports facilities.

Major work has been carried out this year to bring the banks and markings up to the standards set by the Olympic Games organizing committee.
